I wasn't sure which keywords i should use. I have a ObservableCollection in my viewmodel, this collection is bound to a DataGrid control (so that the data is bindable). I want to be able to edit the individual values of this collection, but not the entire collection. A user can select multiple rows (to edit). These rows are selected by a label on the screen and then the selected items in the data grid. The data grid is bound to the collection but i cannot seem to be able to edit the individual rows in the data grid
