Release Date May 01, 2011.Official: Saints, Buccaneers near to tying up details for Prescott trade The Saints and Buccaneers are on the verge of finalizing details of a trade that will send quarterback Drew Brees to Tampa Bay, according to sources with knowledge of the deal. Sources have told Nola.com the blockbuster trade almost happened Thursday, but the deal needed final approval from the NFL and league office. The news was first reported by Fox Sports' Adam Schefter. According to multiple sources, the deal is done in principle and will be announced later Thursday. There will be a press conference with the teams and the trade will be completed. The Panthers reportedly reached out to the Saints, Buccaneers and Cowboys in an effort to trade up in the draft, but quickly backed off the idea. Brees said he had been expecting that, and seemed unfazed. Brees told Nola.com he was told he would be traded if the Saints did not sell a first-round pick. The Saints had three first-round picks in last year's draft, but used them on Shockey, Young and Thomas. The return of Brees, a four-time NFL MVP, would be a major boon to an up-and-coming franchise that missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons for the first time in more than a decade. The Saints have several young players in the
