Alternative.Pink Floyd will perform as part of the closing weekend festivities for the 2014

Rock & Roll Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony on Friday, April 11, 2014 at the Barclays Center in Brooklyn, New York.

The band will appear a final time at the ceremony's closing concert as part of the "The Endless River Tour" – a series of farewell shows to mark the band's 50th anniversary. Pink Floyd is known for combining conceptual storytelling with thematic innovation and theatrical presentation.

Frontman Roger Waters, who leads the iconic band, has said: “The idea of having a personal concert as a farewell to 50 years of Pink Floyd is an idea that we’ve been looking at for a couple of years now. We are always thrilled about the idea that we’ll be coming to an end, but it’s far more exciting to give a show that is truly aimed at ourselves.” The band released a career-spanning boxed set titled The Endless River in 2012. In June 2013, the band embarked on a world tour titled “The Endless River Tour” to celebrate the retrospective release. On June 18, 2014, Pink Floyd will release the

TxtDownload28.Q: CSS vertically stacking images I have a link below, that when clicked on a list of checkboxes, a thumbnail of the chosen product appears. You can move the image with your mouse and when it gets to the bottom of the page, it stacks and out of proportion. I haven't been able to figure out how to fix this with css so that it stays in proportion no matter what. I tried using my #navbar and the submit button but neither were the solution.

Any suggestions? This is where I'm having the issue:

#mythumb { margin: 0 auto;
position: absolute; width: 200px; height: 200px;

background:url("") no-repeat 50% 50%; color: black; border-radius: 50%; }

A: I have not used background properties before but you can create an image with a fixed height and width and use border-radius to create an 'arc' around the image.

Let's say the image height is 200px and you want the width to
