Tip The Liquify Edge tool works best on objects that are out of focus and have clean, sharp edges. Moving things around in the image can destroy the look of the object. * **The Pen tool (P)** is a drawing tool that enables you to make freehand lines. You can also paint with color in the active layer, making it easy to create or modify an image. The Pen tool doesn't draw directly on the layer, but on a canvas. You can easily switch between the canvas and the current active layer in Photoshop. Figure 1-18 and 1-19. The Pen tool can be used to create basic shapes and draw freehand lines or paint with color in the active layer. Figure 1-18. The Pen tool enables you to make freehand lines and draw directly on the layer in this layer mask. Figure 1-19. The Pen tool is very useful for drawing simple shapes. You can create them quickly in the active layer and place them where you want them to appear in an image. * * * # Create the Photo Finish Photoshop Action In this version of Photoshop, every aspect of an image is a simple task. This takes away from the learning curve, which is the main driver to learning and eventually mastering any software application. But don't let that fool you—these are still powerful Photoshop actions that will work for any image, regardless of the length of time it takes you to complete them. The section on these types of actions is titled "Making Your Own Photoshop Actions" on the DVD included with this book. With very little effort, you can create an action to perform any of the steps discussed in the preceding pages. It's easy to create a solid performing action in Photoshop and save it with the _.

Media Resources Share Comment For the next 10 days, the Chancellor of the University of Cambridge will be visiting the United States and Canada with the aim of discussing how the two institutions can work together, academics and students said in a joint statement. Chancellor Robert A. Corrigan will hold talks with US President Barack Obama's commerce secretary, Penny Pritzker, and with Canadian Prime Minister Stephen Harper in Washington in early December, the statement said. The talks are part of the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Trust, established in 2011 by the UK government. "The Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, Dr. Kadir Nelson, said that such high-level contacts – which will also involve business leaders and entrepreneurs – will provide opportunities for the two countries to work together on key international development priorities, such as energy and food security," the statement said. "Visits like these are vital to strengthening our economy," Corrigan said in a statement. "Canada is a good friend and I am committed to working with Penny Pritzker and Stephen Harper in helping to increase business between the two countries." The trip will include a visit to Harvard Business School and a stop in New York City to meet with investors and business leaders at the United Nations. Corrigan is also scheduled to meet with US Secretary of State Hillary Clinton and the heads of British development agencies. The present invention relates to a locking vehicle body locking device for a vehicle having vehicle bodies, such as tractor-trailer trucks, and more particularly relates to a locking device having an automatic action for locking and unlocking of the vehicle bodies independently of the engine operation. Locking device for vehicles is known from West German Pat. No. 1,103,250, wherein a locking device for locking and unlocking truck body walls of a tractor-trailer truck comprises a locking and unlocking lever having a cam and which is operatively connected with a locking cylinder and a safety unlocking or releasing mechanism in the form of a switch which releases the locking cylinder for unlocking of the tractor-trailer truck body. A tractor-trailer truck has the problems that during the operation of such locking device the operator must be continually aware of the locking or unlocking condition of the tractor-trailer truck body and, furthermore, the locking cylinder and the locking and unlocking lever are subjected to constant wear. If possible, the tractor-trailer truck must also be stopped temporarily during the operation of the locking device.

. The remaining serum samples were tested for anti-BDV antibodies using a BVDV-specific ELISA as described in [pone.0088311-Emmerich3]. In short, 20 µL of serum were diluted 1:50 in PBS (phosphate buffered saline), added to the BVDV Ab ELISA Microplates (PAA, Austria) and incubated for 1 hour at 37°C. Plates were washed four times in PBS/0.05% Tween 20, incubated with horseradish peroxidase-coupled anti-IgG antibody (Southern Biotechnology, USA), and washed four times in PBS/0.05% Tween 20. TMB Substrate Reagent Solution (Thermo Fisher Scientific, USA) was added to the plates followed by incubation for 10 minutes at room temperature. The reaction was stopped with sulphuric acid and the absorbance was read at 450 nm using a plate reader (Sunrise™, Tecan, Switzerland). Antibody titres were expressed as the reciprocal of the highest serum dilution that induced a S/P ratio of  $\geq 2$ . Verification of spiked calf serum for virus isolation and sequencing {#s4g} ----- Isolates derived from the spiked samples were used for \*in vitro\* characterisation. For the generation of DNA from BVDV positive isolates, viral DNA was extracted using the QIAamp DNA blood mini kit (Qiagen, Germany) according to the manufacturer's instructions. Upon obtaining a DNA quantity and quality profile, a synthetic fragment of the P29 gene was amplified and used as a positive control [pone.0088311-Schramm2]. All PCRs were performed with the Tag-it BVDV-forward and the Tag-it BVDV-reverse primers using a Tag-it PCR kit (Surrogen, Germany) [pone.0088311-Schramm2]. PCR products were run on a 1% agarose gel containing ethidium bromide and visualised under UV light. For BVDV RNA PCR, viral RNA was obtained using the QIAamp Viral RNA mini kit (Qiagen, Germany). In addition, a nested PCR was performed using Tag-it BVDV-forward and Tag-it BVDV-reverse primers. The resulting PCR product was sequenced using the forward primers and
